SAILING HOLIDAYS, CABIN CHARTERS AND PRIVATE CRUISES IN MYANMAR

Ultimate Archipelago Adventures

At Burma Boating, we organize sailing holidays in Myanmar and beyond.

Passengers can charter private yachts or join one of our cabin cruises, be pampered by our experienced crew and at the same time take part in the sailing aboard our yacht or just relax on deck. Our adventures start from four days up to four weeks or more. Chill on an empty beach with a drink in hand or go on a race with dolphins and snorkel the colourful reefs of the more than 800 Mergui Islands. It's your choice and it's easy with Burma Boating.

Virtually unknown to the outside world, the Mergui Archipelago is a group of 800 untouched islands lying in the eastern Andaman Sea.

Meet the Sea Nomads

The traditional inhabitants of the Mergui Archipelago are the Moken, a people who live off, and on, the sea. Sometimes called "sea-gypsies", this ethnic minority group leads a traditional, semi-nomadic lifestyle, dominated by diving for sea cucumbers, fishing and bartering.

Myanmar is home to more than 100 ethnicities from the Sino-Tibetan, Tai, and Austroasiatic ethnolinguistic groups and you will see an array of starkly differing features amongst the people you'll meet.
